Operations Manual

- g. Reflected all the changes in the Table of Contents; and
- h. Suggested many changes for future additions.

NOTE: The above improvements to the 2016 OpsMan required thousands of corrections and hundreds of hours. It is hoped that this effort will help in continuing the development of the future generations of a useful IEEE Canada OpsMan.

Suggested Future Modifications of OpsMan

(Kinsner & Luiken; May 6, 2016)

1. Add Vice Chairs to all the Committees (with the standard committee description: duties, timelines for activities and actions, reporting mechanism, structure, and communication);
2. Add Vice Regional Student Representative (RSR) (with the standard description: duties, timelines for activities and actions, reporting mechanism, structure, and communication), and add this position to the Student Activities Committee (SAC);
3. Move the Aurum Newsletter from the responsibilities of the Member Services Group (Young Professionals) to the Publications and Communications Group (Sec. 3.5.1.5.1);
4. Move the OpsMan content maintenance from the Past President (PP) to President Elect (PE) (because the PP is overloaded, and the responsibility for CONAC has been removed from the PE);
5. Expand the current Webmaster Committee to a Social Media Communications Committee, SMCC (with the standard committee description);
6. When the SMCC is established (or not), investigate the idea of moving the new-channel communication with membership to each committee;
7. Verify that all the terms of positions in the IEEE Canada Ops Man are consistent with the Bylaws;
8. Look at the direct Board Membership of various operational and functional units (e.g., the Regional Student Representative, RSR, and the Student Activities Committee, SAC);
9. Further clarify and unify the appointment timelines to various positions;
10. Amplify the need for training of new volunteers in the positions, and establish training timelines;
11. Separate the detailed descriptions of each position and each committee from the OpsMan into a new document called IEEE Canada Terms of Reference for Positions and Committees. This would keep the OpsMan more steady (i.e., fewer changes requiring the approval by the IEEE Canada Executive Committee and Board), while allowing the agility of the Terms of Reference (that would not require approvals of the Executive Committee and Board).
